Randy Kron, President Indiana Farm Bureau, Inc.

Randy Kron of Evansville became president of Indiana Farm Bureau in January 2016. He, his wife, Joyce, and son Ben farm about 2,000 acres near Evansville, raising yellow corn, white corn, soybeans and wheat.

He has a long history with Farm Bureau, having served as the organization's vice president, INFB District 9 director, Vanderburgh County Farm Bureau president and vice president and chairman of the Indiana Farm Bureau ELECT Oversight Committee.

Like many Farm Bureau leaders, his first involvement was as Young Farmer representative to his county board. Kron served on the State Young Farmer Committee in 1986 and 1987. In 1989, he and Joyce were the winners of the state Young Farmer Achievement Award.

A 1983 graduate of Purdue University, Kron holds a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics.

Kron is also involved in other ag industry groups, including serving as INFB's representative on the U.S. Grains Council. He is also past president of the county extension board.

In addition to son Ben, Kron and his wife have a daughter, Tori. They are elders of Salem Church of Darmstadt.
